Dealing with Difficulty

Introduction

Affirmation

I am aware of myself.

I am aware of my mind, my thoughts and the way that I am thinking about the world.

I am aware of my body, the way that I feel: my emotions, my pain and my joy.

I am aware this space around me. Of my presence in this space, and the space's presence in me.

I am aware of those people around me, their needs, their presence, their ability to contribute to me, and my ability to contribute to them.

I respect our relationship and the perfection of being in this space at this time.

I am aware of being a part of one whole, alongside all those here with me, and all that is around me.

I am mindful of the Grand Presence that holds everything together, that gives us life and sustains all within its being.

I commit to making my contribution through opening to that Grand Presence and allowing it to speak the language of love through me.

We are all one together.
